

ROOSEVELT URGES PINCHOT'S ELECTION

Calls on Republicans to Give the Pennsylvania Candidate
Their Support.

OSTER BAY, N. Y., May 22.—"Crises come up when it is the duty of all good citizens to stand up for the principles of public life and against policies fatal to the welfare of the nation at home and to the honor of the nation abroad. All good citizens should on such occasions stand together without regard to past party differences."

"I have confidence in the integrity of the rank and file of the Republican party, and that they will support Mr. Pinchot."

This was the statement given out by Theodore Roosevelt following a conference last night with George W. Perkins, chairman of the national committee of the Progressive party, William D. Lewis, Progressive candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, Walter Brown, of the Ohio central committee, and E. A. Van Valkenburg, publisher of the Philadelphia North American.

As further indicating his intention actively to support the Progressive party, he sent a telegram to Gov. Hiram W. Johnson promising to speak in the California campaign for re-election. Colonel Roosevelt's neighbors gave him a warm welcome last night, when all Nassau county joined in Oyster Bay's exercises. Particularly touching was the singing of 600 school children, and the former President was strangely moved as he responded briefly to his fellow-townsmen's greetings.

THE FISHERMAN'S GUIDE

Weather Forecast—Probably cloudy on Saturday; somewhat lower temperature Saturday.

Wind—Variable.
Condition of the Potomac—Clear.

High Tide—6:05 a. m. and 5:45 p. m.
Low Tide—12:19 a. m. and 12:56
p. m.

With the summer right upon us and the call of woods and stream becoming more insistent every day, the fly-caster is beginning to dream of mountain brooks and the elusive trout. Within a day's ride of Washington there are some fine streams to be reached in the Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia hills. Fishing for mountain trout may well be called the poetry of sportsmanship, for it calls for a skill and technique different from that required in landing larger fish in more open water.

The very lightest tackle is the only thing to take when going after mountain trout. An enameled line, size G, is said to improve upon a four-gauge rod, eight-foot long, and a small single-action reel is generally preferred, for the brush and trees will prevent any far casting. A landing net is better left at home, for it is apt to give no end of trouble by catching on brush and twigs. A short and fine leader that will allow the flies to be brought close to the tip will often help in landing the wary where the banks are brush-lined.

There is usually not much choice between fly and bob casting for mountain trout, and the novice should go equipped with both. Never use more than two flies, and one is generally better. The very smallest should be used, and in midsummer even the midsize flies may be best. If there is such a thing as an "educated fish" it is to be found among the mountain trout, for no other species is more wary of a hook or so quick to sense the deception of the wary angler.

Fishing in the Potomac continues good this week, and boat houses and tackle stores report a big migration up the river every morning. The white perch are still biting, and rock bass are coming up the river in increasing numbers.

Boats may be obtained from Trammell, Great Falls; Fletcher, Lock Cove; or boat houses, Three Sisters; Reynolds, in Barker, foot of Thirty-fourth street; Cumberland, foot of Twenty-sixth street; Bailey, under Anacostia bridge; Miller, District end of Benning bridge.

Bait always to be purchased at following boat houses: Reynolds, Bailey's, and Miller's. Also at certain fishing tackle stores.

The following places bear the reputation of being good fishing grounds: (1) "The Parlor," a pool above Boiling Rock, straight out from Fletcher's. The water is deep and swift, and the pool was its name because the fish are known to congregate there. (2) Middle Rock, above the Chain Bridge.

Resinol

stops itching instantly

THE moment Resinol Ointment touches any itching skin, the itching stops and healing begins. With the aid of Resinol Soap, it quickly removes all traces of eczema, rash, tetter, ringworm, pimples or other tormenting, unsightly eruptions, leaving the skin clear and healthy. It is equally effective for burns, boils, rashes, red, rough hands, dandruff and piles.

Resinol Ointment is so nearly flesh-colored that it can be used on exposed surfaces without attracting undue attention. Resinol has been prescribed by doctors for 19 years. All drug stores sell Resinol Ointment (50c and $1.00), and Resinol Soap (25c). For trial use free, write to Dept. 408, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Beware of useless "substitutes."

Mothers' Congress Gives Picnic at Great Falls

Funds from tomorrow's picnic to be given at Great Falls by the District Mothers' Congress will be devoted to purchasing pennants for the girls competing in the games of the city playground.

Speechmaking and music will form a part of the entertainment. The program is under the direction of Mrs. S. T. Wilcox. The picnic will wind up the season for the congress. Six girls from the Lucia Barbour Gales School will give interpretative dances, while Miss Hamlin will sing.

Astor at Norfolk.

NORFOLK, Va., May 22.—Vincent Astor and his bride, formerly Miss Helen Huntington, arrived here last night after cruising for several days up Chesapeake bay and the James river on their yacht Norma. They visited Westover, the historic Byrd plantation, and the old Harrison house, at Lower Brandon.

UNEMPLOYED INVITE WILSON TO MEETING

Lawmakers Also Are Asked to Hear Views of "Millionaire
Hobo" and Others.

President Wilson, Senator Lane of Oregon, Senator Boies of Washington, Congressman Victor Murdock of Kansas, and many others who are interested have been invited to participate in a conference to consider the problems of the unemployed of the nation, to be held tonight under the direction of James Eads How, "the millionaire hobo," organizer of the International Brotherhood Welfare Association, and to continue until Sunday.

That Washington will not be overrun with the unemployed is the declaration of How today. "We expect, however," he said, "to have present at the conference representatives from all the surrounding cities and towns of the East, who will present to us the problems affecting nearby regions and give advice helpful in framing a bill for introduction in Congress looking toward the organization of the unemployed into an industrial army."

"There are three problems confronting us which need immediate attention," he continued. "The first is an interstate free labor bureau. The second, and one which the association is particularly anxious to attain, is free transportation of farm hands to the harvest fields under the supervision of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The third is an insurance by the Government against unemployment."

Coxey's Mule to Go Back To Massillon in Style

The mule that pulled "General" Coxey and his family from Massillon, Ohio, to Washington will ride back to the Ohio town in style. Arrangements for the transportation of the faithful animal and the pony on which young David Coxey rode to the Capital, were made this morning by Coxey, and the livestock, with the phalanx and other traveling paraphernalia, will be shipped today.

WARNING
"Do not expose to LIGHT
"Keep this Cover On"

OTHER BREWS
"Keep this Cover On"

We extend the hand of warm fellowship to everyone who raises the pure beer flag. The brewing industry is one of the greatest in the world. The beer drinking nations are among the strongest. No one can afford to take chances with the purity of beer. That's why the light bottle is condemned. It is insufficient protection from light—which starts decay even in pure beer.

See that Crown is branded "Schlitz."
